Part 1: Investment Profile Questionnaire

What's your overall investment profile?

The following questions provide an assessment of your overall capacity to expose your investments to risk and your attitude towards investment volatility. Please select the single best option for each question and complete each question. We apply points to each answer as shown in brackets after each individual response option with the score listed on the right-hand side boxes and totalled at the bottom of the page.

Age group: What is your age group (or the average age of the income beneficiaries)?

- 80+ years (1)
  65 - 80 years (2)
  50 - 64 years (3)
  35 - 49 years (4)
  Under 35 years (5)

Investing interest and experience: How interested and experienced are you in investing in financial markets?

- No experience and interest (1)
  Limited experience and interest (2)
  Some experience and interest (3)
  Highly experienced and interested (4)
  Professional investor/highly experienced (5)

Return expectations: For the time period you intend to invest, you:

- Seek returns consistent with only the most secure fixed interest issuers (1)
  Seek returns that reflect prevailing deposit rates (2)
  Seek a modest margin (1-2%) over deposit rates (3)
  Seek a clear margin (3-5%) over deposit rates (4)
  Seek returns that reflect local and global sharemarket performance (5)

Downside risks: You could accept the following downturn in the overall value of your investments in any one year:

- 0 - 5% downturn (1)
  5 - 10% downturn (2)
  10 - 15% downturn (3)
  15 - 20% downturn (4)
  20%+ downturn (5)

Reaction to market downturn: If your investments fell by 15-20% in a relatively short timeframe you would be:

- Very concerned, and cash up immediately (1)
  Concerned, and sell the most affected investments (2)
  Willing to hold, and wait for a turn around (3)
  Interested in any sharemarket opportunities that may arise (4)
  Actively shifting investments to the sharemarket to take advantage of any recovery (5)

What your score suggests

Defensive Investor (Scored 5 – 10 points)

You seek to preserve the dollar amount invested, over the longer term.

While accepting that all investments involve an element of risk, you wish to minimise any volatility (variation in the value of your overall capital) and you seek to maintain the nominal (dollar) value of the sum invested. You accept that lower rates of return are associated with lower levels of investment risk and that the sum invested may not keep pace with inflation.

Conservative Investor (Scored 10 – 15 points)

You seek a degree of conservation of the real (inflation adjusted) value of your investment, over the longer term.

While you seek a degree of capital appreciation in addition to the interest and dividend income earned, you prefer a predominantly lower risk investment approach. You appreciate that seeking some capital growth may result in a degree of volatility (variation in the value of your overall capital), but wish that to be limited by the more stable returns of the lower risk component of your investments.

Balanced Investor (Scored 15 – 20 points)

You seek to actively grow the value of your investment over the longer term, but with some constraints on the overall level of risk involved.

While you appreciate that your accumulated investments may exhibit significant volatility (variation in the value of your overall capital), you wish to ensure that a moderate component is invested in those markets which have the greater expected rate of return, balanced by the presence of a more conservatively invested component. You understand that performance may vary significantly in the shorter term (with valuations moving both up and down) in the process of seeking enhanced returns.

Growth Investor (Scored 20 points or over)

You seek to invest where long term growth potential is the greatest, without being concerned about the extent of short term fluctuations or the unpredictability of those markets.

While you appreciate the greater investment risks involved, your financial situation and personal circumstances enable you to concentrate your investments in those markets which have the greater expected rate of return, without requiring the capital for other purposes. You understand the sensitivity of these markets to short term events and the extent to which the value of your overall capital may vary, as part of the process of seeking superior returns.

Part 2: Selecting your Investment Profile

What investment profile do you want us to use when giving you advice under this account?

You may wish to select an investment profile for your account that is different from your overall investment profile. Please select the investment profile you would like us to use when we give you investment advice under your Investment Advisory Service and/or KiwiSaver Advisory Service account.

Defensive     
  Conservative     
  Balanced     
  Growth
